

BLACKHAWK FLIERS ADD NEW AIRPLANE. Pilots of the Blackhawk Flying club, a non-profit organization designed to provide airplanes and instructions to members, are shown with their new Cessna airplane, third ship purchased by club, as they gathered at Greater Rockford airport for a Sunday picnic. Pictured from left, front row, are Al Mera,

Phil Walden, club president; Clem Svilow, membership chairman; Paul Wilber, Floyd Mosier, Earl Warner, John Lamb, instructor; Dr. Robert Moore. Rear row: Vince Block, instructor; Bruno Peter, Don Furland, R. L. Johnston, Tom Clark and Lowell Hagaman.